State Cotton Committee Believes 40% of Cropland Should Be Cotton

Cotton farmers, because of their investment in land and equipment and their relatively high fixed overhead expenses, cannot operate efficiently with less than 40 percent of their cropland in cotton, according to a subcommittee of the Mississippi Farm Income Planning Committee.

Under cotton acreage allotment restrictions, however, Mississippi's 1957 allotment of 1,642,251 acres is only about 30 percent of the state's total cropland. The cotton subcommittee of the Farm Income Planning committee suggests that a goal of 2,000,000 acres in cotton by 1962 be sought.

Members of the subcommittee making the recommendation are: C. Canley Cortright, chairman, Rolling Fork; T. M. Waller, State College; C. T. Coleman, Ocean Springs.

Recommendations by the group to accomplish the goal are:

- (1) Commodity Credit Corporation stocks should at all times be available to export markets on conditions that would make these stocks fully competitive with cotton from any other source.
- (2) The charter of the Commodity Credit Corporation should be modified in such manner as to make its excess stocks available domestically at world prices for certain specified and user specified amounts of the live corn and hog market, approximately 15 million hogs annually, might be regained by such action.
- (3) Any restrictive legislation on production or pricing should be studied closely, to guard against forcing of encouraging primary consumers of raw cotton to shift to substitute fibers.

Southern Bell Telephone "Picture Phone" Still Undergoing Development

Scientists have given eyes to the telephone. And the time may come in the foreseeable future when a person can make a telephone call and see and be seen by the person at the other end of the line.

It's all in the experimental stage now, however. This "picture phone" is still undergoing development and is not yet ready for commercial use. Mr. J. C. Dabney, Manager of Southern Bell Telephone Company in Gulfport, said.

Researchers at the Bell Telephone Laboratories have used the device recently to send recognizable pictures over distances as great as from New York to Los Angeles.

The images sent by the "picture phone" vary in size from one by one-and-a-half inches to two by three inches. They are in black and white and show only the head and shoulders. A new picture is transmitted every two seconds.

The "picture phone" is not an intruder. Switches at both ends of the line have to be "on" for the picture to be transmitted with the conversation. The picture screen and camera are in a box alongside the telephone. If a person doesn't want to be seen he can flip off the picture switch. But at the same time he cuts off his view of the party at the other end.

Mr. Dabney said the experimental "picture phone" is the 1st system of its kind to offer promise of being commercially feasible because it uses ordinary telephone wires for transmission. Only one pair of wires is required in addition to those carrying the conversation.

LET'S FINISH THE POLIO JOB IN MISS.

Over 4,000 Mississippi children and adults were stricken with crippling polio from 1946 through 1956. For five consecutive years—1950-1954—an average of 535 new victims were claimed each year.

When polio strikes, the combination of knowledge, trained personnel, equipment, and direct financial assistance often can avert severe crippling. March of Dimes funds provide for these essentials for those in Mississippi who need help.

POLIO ISN'T LICKED IN MISSISSIPPI

Here are the facts:

FACT NO. 1—The Salk polio vaccine is a magnificent step toward prevention, but Mississippi recorded 298 new cases of polio in 1956, as compared to 181 new cases for 1955.

FACT NO. 2—Polio struck four or five times more frequently in 1956 among the unvaccinated than among those who had one or two injections of the Salk vaccine. Three injections will give great or protection.

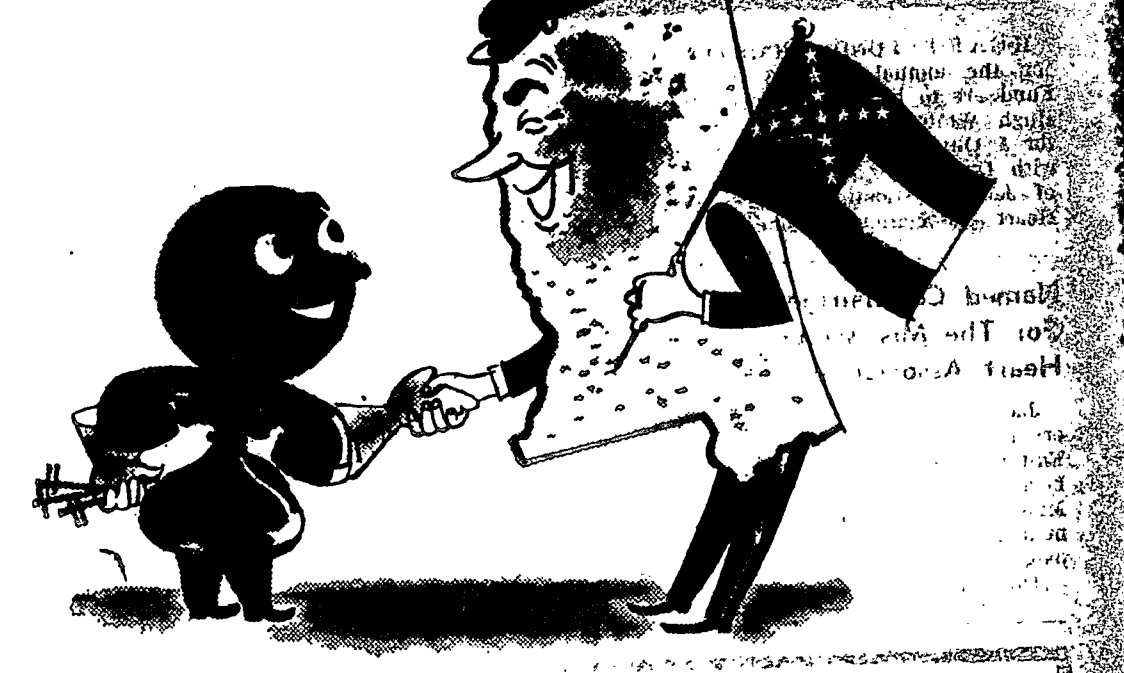

FACT NO. 3—Over one-quarter million Mississippians under age of 20 have not had a single shot of the vaccine.

FACT NO. 4—Polio will strike new victims in 1957 and they must be cared for, along with 80,000 (for the nation) stricken in previous years.

FACT NO. 5—There are 2,000 Mississippi children and adults stricken with polio in previous years who look to the March of Dimes for the continuing care they need.

FACT NO. 6—Every polio patient, even when hospital and medical bills are paid, by the family or insurance, benefits from March of Dimes services, such as trained personnel and equipment furnished to hospitals, and from the knowledge gained through research.

FACT NO. 7—More than 100 per cent of Mississippi's gifts to the March of Dimes has returned to our people. Approximately half of all gifts originally remained with the local chapters. This amount plus emergency aid advances from the National Headquarters makes the polio patient care cost less than the state 10-15 per cent of total contributions since the beginning of the March of Dimes in 1938. Far more than the remaining 10 per cent was re-

partners in progress

Mississippi's growth and progress during the past ten years has been phenomenal... Our rate of gain in cash income from farming has been greater than for the South as a whole and our manufacturing has increased at a rate greater than that of the South and the nation!

As agriculture and industry have advanced in Mississippi, Southern Bell has moved ahead, too—Our state's present 312,000 telephones, compared to our 110,000 in 1945, shows what we mean... This great increase in our Mississippi facilities called for an additional investment of approximately $127 million between 1945 and 1957... and additional expansion is expected to call for further investment of about $16 million this year.

Another thing: As telephones have increased so have employees and the payroll... Today, we have nearly 5000 Mississippi employees who receive over $17 million a year in wages... and we pay over $8 million yearly in taxes... All this is part of Southern Bell's contribution to the civic and economic life of our State.

Named Co-Chairmen For The Mississippi Heart Association

Jackson, Miss.—Former Governor Hugh White and McComb Editor J. Oliver Emmerich have been named co-chairmen for the Mississippi Heart Association annual February Heart Fund campaign.

This will be the second successive year that Emmerich, editor of the McComb Enterprise Journal has headed state heart volunteers in their drive to raise money for the fight against heart disease, the state's No. 1 Killer.

association aims, former Governor White, vigorous and lively nearly 30 years after his heart attack, says "I'm convinced that doing exactly what my doctor told me to do brought me through my attack." White explains that he believes the heart association education program helps save lives by assisting heart patients and their families to understand their situation.

Emmerich underscores his co-worker's views with the added comment that checking his newspaper's obituary columns has made him painfully aware of the heart disease toll and the need for research to find the underlying cause of heart blood disorders.

In a recent meeting with Dr. D. J. VanLandingham of Jackson, state heart association president, plans were made for the February campaign in 55 state counties with active heart committees and means discussed to reach areas where local groups have not yet been organized.

The Mississippi Heart Association has this year set itself a goal of $100,000 as its part of the nationwide attack on disease of the heart and blood vessels. Last year, Mississippians contributed $68,000 to defeat the disease which causes 45 per cent of all deaths in the state.

Funds contributed during February are used, Dr. VanLandingham explains, to support research into the causes and cures of heart diseases, to pay for short courses which bring latest heart knowledge to physicians, to finance forums and other free information for the public and to initiate a program of community service.

Co-Chairman White and Emmerich will correlate the activities of thousands of heart volunteers all over the state in one month effort which climaxes February 24 on Heart Sunday.

Important Notice To All Automobile Repair Departments

Due to recent complaints from repair shops in Mississippi, we think it advisable to notify all automobile repairmen that they should determine whether an insurance company is licensed to do business in Mississippi before releasing a repaired car on the strength of an unlicensed out-of-state company's promise to pay a repair bill.

Within the past few months several auto repair shops have sought our assistance in collecting a repair bill on out-of-state cars insured by an unlicensed out-of-state company. The Insurance Department has no jurisdiction over a case of this kind, regardless of its merit, and can be of no assistance under any circumstances. In this event an out-of-state car is brought into your place for repair, we suggest that you collect your bill before releasing the automobile unless the matter is handled by a local adjuster, local agent, and the insurance is with a company licensed to do business in Mississippi.

We will be glad to answer any inquiries regarding the insurance angle before the repaired car is released.

There is nothing like an increased income to make a man, or woman, feel like the world is really getting better.

FORESTRY NOTES

Area Forester Marion Parker asks the support of the citizens of Hancock County in helping to make the new year, 1957, the most successful year for the forestry program in the history of Mississippi Forestry Commission activity in the County.

Parker states that during the last part of 1956, the increase in wild woods fires was very disappointing to those connected with the forestry program. Nevertheless, Parker believes that more and more of Hancock County people are becoming concerned about the danger of forest fires and with their help he believes the 1957 fire occurrence record will be decreased. But for this to become a reality it will require the thoughtfulness of every Hancock county citizen.

Parker said that over one-third of the industry-employed people in the state are employed in forest industries and it is therefore important that everyone cooperate in promoting the forestry program.

Parker urges strongly that everyone be careful in their use of fire in or near wooded areas. He suggests that no field or trash burning be done except in time of ideal conditions and then only if the burning must be done.

For advice on burning conditions or to report a wild fire, call Marion Parker at telephone No. 881 J, 125 or the fire control tower at telephone No. 8100.
